

Fundraising at Work

Thank you for offering to raise some money for Dogs for Good. We have leaflets, posters, stickers and collecting boxes which you can have to help you with your fundraising.

Office 'Dogsbody'

Put everyone's name in a hat and, whoever is picked out is 'Dogsbody' for that day. This might entail taking over the tea and coffee making duties, the photocopying or post run. Ask people to make a donation for the pleasure of not having to do the boring jobs. Biscuits could be had for an extra donation!

Sweepstakes

Why not hold an office sweepstake for a major event such as the Grand National, Wimbledon or FA Cup final? Or choose something a little closer to home such as the name of a colleague's new-born baby, puppy or godchild.

Cake Divide

Buy or make a cake, divide it into, say, 8 slices and sell them for 50p a slice. Why not take it in turns and make it your Friday tradition?

'Hot Dogs for Cool Canines'

Why not invite your colleagues over for a BBQ? Or have a 'Hot Dogs for Cool Canines' summer party at work. Charge for each hot dog, or ask people to bring a bottle and charge a 'party fee'.

Spot the Baby

Make a display of everyone's baby photos. Each person pays 50p to guess the identities of baby. Whoever guesses the most wins 25% of the takings.

Out Tray Sale

You could hold your own office 'car boot sale'. Bring all of those unwanted items, place them in your 'Out Tray' and see the pounds roll in.

Dress Down/Dress Up Day

Add some excitement to the usual dress-down day by choosing a seasonal theme, wearing a silly hat or horrid tie! Or for a Dress Up Day, come in your posh frock, fab shoes and lots of bling!

Summer Fun Day

Why not organise a summer lunch hour event. You could ask your department to challenge another to a game of rounders, mini golf or even a three-legged race! Charge an entry fee for each person or team.

Chocolate Quiz

A perfect excuse for indulging in anything chocolate! Why not take the chocolate quiz around all your offices? Or compete against each other.

Quiz Nights

We have a selection of quiz questions for you to use plus some picture quizzes.

Big Dogs Breakfast

Host your "Breakfast" (or brunch, or whatever), include some of the ideas listed above and help us raise funds for our wonderful charity. You can also download materials from our website:

Golf Days etc

We have a separate selection of fundraising ideas for anything "Golf" – please get in touch if you would like these.

Matched Funding

Ask your employer to match what you have raised – or make a generous donation of their own!

Just Giving/Virgin Money Giving

Whatever your fundraising event is, it might benefit from you setting up an on-line donation page on line – it's very simple to do. That way you can reach many more people and raise lots more money!

Some Do's and Don'ts

Whilst the charity wishes to encourage voluntary supporters to inject their own personalities and ideas into fundraising activities, the Trustees would not wish the charity to be associated with activities that could bring the charity into disrepute, or for you undertake any hazardous activities, such as bungee jumping or parachuting, without appropriate insurance cover.
